"NOW IS THE TIME TO FIGHT-THE TIME TO USE OUR NAVY-THE TIME TO CLEAR THE ATLANTIC OF THE GERMAN MENACE IS NOW AT HAND," said COL. FRANK KNOX, U.S. SECRETARY FOR THE NAVY, at a congress of State Governors on Monday.

"We should take advantage of the God-given chance. America must now determine the outcome of the war. Germany's war with Russia will hold her attention for the vital months of this crucial year, and we should be ready now to mingle with British toil, tears and sweat, American toil, American tears and American sweat."

Referring to President Roosevelt's speech in launching the Lease and Lend Act, Colonel Knox said, "NOW IS THE TIME TO FULFIL THAT PLEDGE. MONETARILY, HERR HITLER HAS HIS BACK TO USE HE HAS CHOSEN TO EXPRESS CONTEMPT FOR OUR PROMISES OF AID TO BRITAIN AND WHILE HIS BACK IS TURNED WE MUST ANSWER HIS OBVIOUS CONTEMPT WITH A SMASHING BLOW THAT WILL CHANGE THE WHOLE WORLD'S OBJECTIVES."

Col. Knox emphasised how vital it was to fulfil the President's pledge. He said that CLEAR CALL TO GO FULLY over 2,000,000 tens of shipthe last two months of the war and it was essential these should be replaced.

"There is only one thing to this way of thinking," said Col. Knox. ### GOVERNOR STICKS TO STATEMENT MAKING NO RASH PROMISES BROADCAST ON EVACUATION IN

In a 15-minute broadcast from the studio of Z.B.W. last night, HIS EXCELLENCY THE GOVERNOR, SIR GEOFFRY NORTHCOTE, K.C.M.G., spoke on a "thorny subject" dealing with "Some points about the Evacuation" in the course of which His Excellency declared he would stick to his statement that HE WAS NOT GOING TO MAKE ANY RASH PROMISES.

The Governor spoke frankly, examined the whole question of evacuation and dealt with the various schools of thought and the under-currents one of which was the belief that the Hongkong Government had misinterpreted the order which came from His Majesty's Government.

The instructions to evacuate British European women and children, said His Excellency, came from H.M. Government last June, and were quite clear and definite.

"What hope is there of general permission being given forwomen and children to come back here. Frankly, I am sorry to say, the answer, so far as the immediate future goes, must be 'none,'" said His Excellency.

The full text of the broadcast is as follows:--- ject this evening is a thorny one, Command, yesterday: to say the least of it, so I will try to clear the ground a bit before I begin. In the first place, I am going to be as frank as I can, but it goes without saying that there are some points on which I cannot be altogether explicit.

Secondly, I am not going to try to use 'soft sawder,' nor am I going to make rash promises; though I hope that what I have to say will lighten the outlook a little for the families which have been torn asunder by the evacuation. Thirdly, I hold no brief for those women whose duty it was to go last year and who failed in that arriving in Hongkong in the near

NEW G.O.C. China May Break Off Diplomatic Relations With Axis

CHUNGKING, July 1 (Reuter)-The German and Italian recognition of the Nanking Government is likely to result in China breaking off diplomatic relations with Berlin and Rome and in a spread of the war to the Far East, according to Chinese circles here.

These quarters are not surprised at the development and express the opinion that it may after all be fayourable to Chungking as it would formally bring the Chungking Government into the same camp with the United States, Britain and Russia and would also make it unnecessary for Chungking to maintain half-hearted relations as hitherto existing with Berlin and greatest haste. Before I go further I want to make one thing clear. In the course of this short talk I am speaking only of the British European community, because that was the only section of the population affected by the evacuation Admittedly that point raises another and a very large issue but I cannot deal with it tonight.

CRITICS OF MEASURE

There are clearly several schools of thought among the critics of the evacuation. There are somenot many. I believe-who think that the whole thing was unnecessary. Then there is a much larger body of opinion which holds that it might have been very strongly urged on the public, but not made compulsory. Then again there are those who argue that if compulderstand how any husband or motorcars were seen med up along bris. ### DEFINITE INSTRUCTIONS

The instructions to evacuate British European Women and children, which came from His Majesty's Government last June, were quite clear and definite. It within my personal knowledge that they were sent only after the matter had been considered on more than one occasion in all its aspects by the War Cabinet There is no ground for thinking that the drastic nature of the less than full weight.

they were driven was that the situation was so grave that there was no alternative but to take that step. Furthermore, the Home Authorities were aware that the local evacuation scheme necessarily provided for the exemption of a considerable number of women: that is a point to which I will return in a few minutes. I hope that that brief statement will clear away any misconceptions of those two points.

I do not think it worth while to discuss whether His Majesty's Government was right or not in From the time that evacuation bethat decision. # Independence® For Syria

Treaty To Be Drawn On Egyptian Model

JERUSALEM, July 1 (Reuter) Independent status, similar to that of Egypt and confirmed by a treaty on the Anglo-Egyptian model, is envisaged for Syria, according to reports in Damascus.

Meanwhile members of the Syrian Government, it is stated have been requested to carry on their administrative duties 35

It is expected that a more formal aspect will be given to the promises contained in the recent Allied declaration by an exchange of communications between the occupying forces and the Syrian Government and in tended to form a basis for detailed discussions on the country's future status. Questions of trade, finance and the country's future economic stability, it is assumed, will also, be the subject of detailed discussion very shortly.

THE BATTLE OF THE ATLANTIC

Part British Coastal Command Plans Play In Escorting Convoys To Safety

BY WING-COMMANDER L V. FRASER

London-Aircraft of the coastal command have escorted over 5,000 convoys since the war began. As the battle of the Atlantic quickens the number of convoys brought in safely grows larger every day. This means that aircraft must fly through all hours of the daylight and most of the night.

It is hard monotonous flying-sometimes only ninety or a hundred feet above the sea if the visibility is bad. At other times when the clouds are high and there is no sea mist the coastal command pilots go up 1,509 feet. If they go higher than this it is extremely difficult to spot the feather or the tell tale streak of oil that marks the presence of a U-boat or the dot. on the sea which may be a lifeboat or survivors from a torpedoed ship.

U-boats have been sighted by war when the Anson although rewski is an irrevocable loss to the coastal command aircraft on comparatively slow and lightly nearly 300 occasions since the war armed nevertheless by its great At the moment of its great be- began and something like 200 at | manoeuvring power was able to tacks made.
